DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Owen and McCartney.

Owen shows a method and an apparatus for creating a waveform by superposition of N waves wherein each of the waves has a particular frequency or tone, note the abstract. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to generate Owen's waveform by use of a single CORDIC because McCartney teaches that a single CORDIC may be used to generate multiple tones or frequencies via time-multiplexing, note the last line of the abstract.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The claims are directed to software per se which fails to fall within any of the statutory categories of invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are required to be rewritten in accordance with U.S. practice. A method claim should be basically a sequence of actively performed steps and an apparatus claim should be basically a combination of structurally interconnected elements.

Claim Objections

5. Claim 10 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim must refer to other claims only in the alternative. See MPEP § 608.01(n).

Specification

6. It is improper for the specification to refer to claims.

Drawings

7. It appears that Fig. 1 should be labeled "Prior Art". In Figs. 1 and 3 all elements are required to be appropriately labeled so as to readily identify the elements represented.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to DAVID H. MALZAHN whose telephone number is (571)272-3727. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th from 7:30 to 6:00.
